The many friends of Mr. S. A. J. Horne, who lives about two miles south of Live Oak, will sympathize with him in the loss of his companion, who died early Sunday morning. Mrs. Horne had been in very poor health for several weeks and her demise was not unexpected. She was about 66 years of age and beside her husband, leaves a large number of relatives to mourn her death. She was laid to rest in the New Hope cemetery Monday. Rev. T. A. Cox read the burial services. The Democrat extends sympathy to the bereaved ones.

The holiday trade in Live Oak this year was the largest in the history of the city, and Friday was the banner day of them all. It is estimated that the receipts of the merchants Friday was many thousands of dollars more than the receipts of the same date last year. Extra clerks were employed by every store in the city and in spite of that fact the customers could not be waited upon, and the rush kept until midnight. Notwithstanding the fact, that the town was crowded with people from all parts of the county, only one arrest was made during the entire day, which speaks volumes for our county on the prohibition question.

BROWARD IS CONFIDENT.

Will Run for Senate and Feels Sure of Election.

St. Augustine, Dec. 28.—Despite assertions by others to the effect that he will not be in the race, former Governor Napoleon B. Broward stated this morning unqualifiedly that he is already in the contest for the United States Senate. This greatly clarifies the political atmosphere when it is taken into consideration that the Hon. W. A. Blount of Pensacola, has withdrawn. The race for the seat will be between Senator Jas. P. Taliaferro, the present incumbent, and Governor Broward, Mr. Claude L'Engle, of Tallahassee, and Judge J. L. Reeves, of Pensacola, are already announced and working, but the real fight will be between the first named.

"I am in the race," said the former Governor this morning. "And I am very well satisfied with the way things lay at the present time. In fact, I am so confident that I feel certain that if a vote was taken to-morrow I would win over the field very easily. But I am going to begin my campaign actively early in January.

"My platform will be fully announced, of course, when I take up the work of the campaign in earnest. Among the main things which I shall advocate will be the improvement of the nation's waterways and the further control of corporations by the inter-

I was not bothered again until I came to Live Oak. The drinking water here had a bad effect on my kidneys and the kidney secretions became very irregular in passage. I at once procured Doan's Kidney Pills from the Suwannee Drug Co., and they corrected the difficulty. I am glad to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

"Dixie" is Supreme.

The Baltimore Sun says: "Songs may come and songs may go, but 'Dixie' goes on forever. It runs away with 'Yankee Doodle,' drives 'Marching Through Georgia' back to the woods, gives 'My Country 'Tis of Thee,' 'Hail Columbia' and certainly has 'The Star Spangled Banner' lashed to the mast. It is the liveliest survival of the Confederacy and cannot be ignored or suppressed. Gathering together its forces in the South, it has invaded the North, overrun the Union, captured the Continent and made all the world sit up and listen. 'Dixie' has in it the tinkle of the banjo, the strains of the fiddle and the blow of the bugle, the beat of the drum, the whistle of the fife and the swing and splendor of the full brass bands. When he hears it the old veteran sees the lines in gray still filing by, and the old Confederate exclaims 'And we go marching on.' For 'Dixie' is the song of the soldier, the song of the dauntless heart, the song of the South unconquered."
